Story of a Young Girl's Horrible Treatment.

HAIR DYE TAKEN FOR MEDICINE.

Suicide at the Stevenson—Kearney's Woes—To-morrow's Polling Places—Other News.

A most shocking story is being told about the city in relation to the treatment of a young girl by a number of men connected with a livery stable on Spring street. It is stated that when the circus was here a young girl named Annie Heffinger met a man at the circus who induced her to accompany him to a livery stable on Spring street, and that after taking her there she was kept a prisoner for three or four days, and forced to submit to all the emlyoyees and their friends. It is further stated that the girl's mother became alarmed and searched the city for her daughter, and that she finally traced her child to the livery stable. When she arrived there she demanded the girl, but the men in charge refused to give her up unless the mother would agree not to prosecute, and the woman, in her desire to keep the affair quiet agreed to this course. The men then promised to deliver the girl to the mother at a certain time and place. Promptly at the appointed time the mother went to the Fort street M. E. Church and found her daughter lying in an unconscious condition on the steps. It was found that the girl had been drugged, and it is stated that she had been kept in a semi-unconscious state during the entire time she was in the control of the men. It was learned late last night that Annie Heffinger was at the county jail on a charge of vagrancy, and it was stated that she was the girl about whom the statements were made. A reporter called at the jail, but was unable, owing to the lateness of the hour, to ascertain the facts.

The Dye Was Cast.

A prisoner in the County Jail, who was afflicted with premature gray hair and a bad cold, managed to get his remedies for the two evils tangled up last evening with serious danger to his life and well-being. His name is W. B. Cummings and he is spending ten days in Los Angeles as a result of having disturbed the peaceful village of Pomona. Last night after having made his toilet and retired, his cough began to trouble him. He reached out in the dark for the bottle which contained the soothing mixture, but picked up the hair restorer instead. The chief ingredient of the compound was nitrate of silver, which is not only valueless as a cough medicine, but has a very injurious effect upon the tonsils. Cummings took a long draught of the stuff and then yelled for help. It was fortunate that he did not wait long to make his error known, for in a few minutes the poor fellow's voice was gone and his throat swelled up so that he could hardly breath. Jailor Russell sent out for some oil and a quantity of it was forced into the man's throat. It will be some time before Cummings will enjoy the use of his palate, and in the meantime he will probably reflect long and often upon how near that hair dye came to bringing his gray locks with sorrow into the grave.

Poisoned Himself.

An inquest was held at 9 o'clock last night in the undertaking rooms of Messrs. Peck & McCoy on the body of W. C. Ackerman, an Iowan who committed suicide in the Stevenson House about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by taking an overdose of laudanum. Deceased had only arrived from San Diego on Wednesday afternoon, at which place it would appear from a letter of recommendation found upon his person that he had been working for John Relfe, a grocer, and immediately repaired to the hotel, where he engaged a room. But little testimony could be obtained, owing to the brevity of deceased's visit, the witnesses examined being F. E. Taylor, the manager of the hotel, who testified as to the registration of the deceased, R. Wiggin, an attaché of the hotel who found the body, and Dr. McGowan, who held a post-mortem examination and testified as to the cause of death. The jury found a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death from an overdose of poison taken by himself with intent to commit suicide. Deceased was a single man about 30 years of age and 5 feet 9 inches in height. His father, B. A. Ackerman, lives in Hardie county, Iowa. The only cause that can be assigned for the act is that deceased became depressed from lack of funds.

Kearney's Woes.

Mrs. F. D. Allen, who has figured in the Justice courts of late on the charges of disturbing the peace and battery, appears to be anxious, if statements are true, to appear in public again. Mrs. Allen, whose dressmaking establishment is on Spring street near Third, has a tenant named Abraham Kearney, whose room she is said to think would be to her much more acceptable than his company and that of his wife and friends. After having invested $5 on disturbing the peace for him and $5 in battering his business partner, she now serves a writ ef ejectment on him through the courts. The law's delay proving too tedious for her anxiety to be rid of him, she has begun, so he disclosed at the police station last night, a species of partisan warfare upon him and his household, which has made the gilded motto of "There's no place like home," which hangs upon the wall of his room, a hollow mockery. Last night, according to his story, she pulled the skylight off the roof and let the rain in on the bed—a sort of a "wet sheet and a flowing sea" that he had no use for. Not only that, but she wouldn't let his children get into the wash room—and they needed washing. At last accounts the siege had not been raised, and Mr. Kearney was still wandering about the streets singing, "What is home without a landlady."

Third Ward Democrats.

The Democrats of the Third Ward will convene in Judge Austin's court-room on Second street this evening at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will come up, and it is hoped that every Democrat in the ward will turn out.

THE PORK QUESTION.

Resolutions Adopted by the Butchers' Protective Union.

The butchers of this city state that their trade has suffered considerably on account of the report of the feeding of hogs on dead horses which has been going on back of Sycamore Grove. They say that they have always been most careful in the selection of their hogs, and that none of them were purchased from the parties in question. The reporter of the HERALD who investigated the matter on Sunday last, stated at the time that the men who were taking away the carcasses of the slaughtered hogs were Chinamen, and Jailor Russell was requested on that occasion to arrest them. Mr. Russell was unable to do this, being then on his way to Verdugo in search of a Mexican who shot another at that place. The Chinamen said they kept a store in new Chinatown.

The members of the Butchers' Protective Union met yesterday and passed the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has been currently reported in this community that there are persons feeding hogs upon diseased animals, and that such hogs have been sold to the trade. And

WHEREAS, Such actions of only unprincipled people tend to destroy the trade and bring it into disrepute as well as make it unwholesome to the health of the community. Therefore

Resolved, That the Butchers Union through its Executive Committee will prosecute any or all persons found feeding hogs on diseased animals or known to have sold or try to sell any hogs which have been fed upon such food.

Resolved, That the Butchers Union does offer a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of any person found guilty of the offense.

Dropped Dead.

News reached this city yesterday of the sudden death of Peter Allen, at Beaumont, formerly called San Gorgonia. He dropped dead while in his store and it is supposed that the cause was heart disease. Three years ago Mr. Allen was married to a young and beautiful lady who is now in this city. Their married life, according to report, was not very happy, and a few months ago a separation occurred, and it is alleged that Mrs. Allen left her husband on account of his cruelty. No suit for divorce was started, however, and now Mrs. Allen will in all probability come in for all her husband's property, which is said to be considerable. It is said that when the matter comes up in the Probate Court it will be very interesting.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

There will be a meeting this evening of all the Committeemen and Association Workers of the Young Men's Christian Association in the parlors of the Presbyterian Church. All the work of the Association is done through its committees, and upon the efficiency of the committees depends the amount of work done by the Association. About 100 young men are now actively engaged in the work of the various committees, and are getting ready for an active season's work. Tea will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary at 6:30 o'clock, after which papers will be read and discussed on the various phases of the work. Mr. C. S. Mason will be present and preside at the tables.

First Street Paving.

Mayor Workman states that the contractors have agreed to pave First street, as suggested by City Attorney Daly. One contractor will commence at one end and the other at the other and they will work towards each other. The contract will be signed just as soon as Mr. Austin who is indisposed is able to get out. In the mean time an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court to determine definitely the questions which arose in the case.

The First-street Bridge.

The First-street bridge is being torn down preparatory to the erection of the new bridge at that point. The old bridge will be taken to Ninth street immediately. In the meantime the passage over the river at First street has been closed, much to the inconvenience of the people residing at Boyle Heights. This will be remedied, however, in a day or two, for passages will be constructed to the river bed, so that crossing can be done in that manner.

Failed to Agree.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Ratcliff was on trial in Justice King's court yesterday on the charge of disturbing the peace. The witnesses, two of them young girls, testified to the indecent language used by Mrs. Ratcliff on various occasions. The jury finally disagreed. Mrs. Ratcliff lives on Mateo street, and is charged by her neighbors with disturbing them on numerous occasions.

To the Benevolent.

Mrs. Lauson, residing at 131 St. John's street, came to the HERALD office yesterday and stated that she has four children, that her husband is dead, and that she is in a very destitute condition. Her case is commended to the charitable societies of the city.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

Crowds Flocking to See the Orphans' Fair.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR TO-NIGHT.

Satisfactory Cash Receipts—The Herald Leading in the Contest For the Banner.

The excellent programme that was announced for the evening's entertainment at the Orphans' Fair doubtless had something to do with the large attendance that was present at Armory Hall last night. The booths seemed more attractive than ever, and business was rushing, judging by the continued clinking of coins that could be heard as one strolled by the well-patronized stands. The exercises on the stage fully met with all expectations, and the tableaux were greatly admired by all observers. Miss Reeve looked wondrously pretty as the fair Evangeline, and the effect was heightened by limelights burning at the sides. The vocalization of Messrs. J. Nuelle and John Alton, was very creditable, and then the audience found plenty to admire in the tableau of "The Broken Pitcher," represented by Miss Hopp. This young lady looked very charming in a costume appropriate to the scene, and won hearty applause from all over the room. Professor Wilde's excellent piano playing then passed away a pleasant quarter of an hour, after which the first part of the programme was over. The second series was as pleasant as the first, its principal features being a tableau, "Faith, Hope and Charity," represented by Miss Reeve, Miss Happ and Miss Matfield, and "The Fire Worshippers," enacted by Messrs. A. J. Mesmer, H. C. Limbrock and J. B. Dockweiler. Considerable interest was manifested in the voting, and toward the close of the evening an auction sale was held near the stage, at which hats, clocks, boxes of cigars and other articles were disposed of for sums that netted a royal revenue for the treasury. The contest was very keen as to the leadership of the newspapers, the HERALD, however, proving victorious and still holding the banner of victory. The following were the readings of the blackboards when the hall was closed for the night:

For Sheriff—T. E. Rowan, 56; M. Aguirre, 58.

For Institutes—Y. M. I. No. 14, 25; Y. M. I. No. 36, 31; N. S. R. P. No. 109, 5; N. S. L. A. P., 20.

Weekly Newspapers—Monitor, 59; Irish World, 39; Irish-American, 8; California Catholic, 104.

Daily Papers—Herald, 86; Tribune, 85; Times, 5; Evening Express, 3.

TO-NIGHT'S PROGRAMME.

The following is announced for this evening:

PART I—8 P. M.

1. Soprano solo—"Queen of the Night" .... Miss G. Reeve.
2. Baritone solo .... Mr. Hayes.
3. Recitation .... Miss Pauline Swingley (the 7-year-old wonder).
4. Soprano solo—"Waiting" .... Miss McManus.
5. Chorus—"Hail Us Ye Free" .... Cicilian Society.

PART II—10 P. M.

Grand Fancy-Dress March, under command of Professor Fischer.

NOTES.

General Boyce cast a couple of votes for the HERALD.

Father Linde carried off all the trophies at the auction sale.

The ladies of the Gypsy booth had their usual throng of admirers.

Miss Robin is distinguished as the First Lieutenant of the Japanese booth.

Miss Elmira Starr, of the Variety booth, has winning ways that few can withstand.

Miss Deering can be distinguished all over the room by her splendid Del Sarten movements.

Mrs. Bradbury presides over the fates of the Japanese booth in a manner that ensures success.

The Misses Del Valle from Camulos, "the home of Ramona," are typical California beauties.

Mr. J. Harry Conlan, J. H. Dockweiler and I. Dockweiler are spirited in their voting for the HERALD.

The ladies were very doleful because the smiling face of Captain Francis E. Bell was missing last night.

Everyone is anxious to have the management turn the affair into a promenade concert to-morrow evening.

General Manager Dan McCool, of the Santa Fe, accompanied by Colonel I. B. Polk, admired the surroundings last night.

Miss Newhall and Miss Matfield had offers of subsidies from the Tribune if they would work in its interest in the contest for the banner.

The Japanese booth is lucky to number among its inmates, the captivating Mrs. Bell. She is as agreeable in her manner to all patrons as she is charming in appearance.

Miss Bradbury is as accomplished as she is charming. A set of 165 pieces of chinaware, painted by that young lady when 12 years old, can be seen at the Japanese booth.

Mr. Woodbury, of the business college, has presented a $75 certificate entitling the holder to six months tuition free of charge. It will either be raffled off or disposed of by vote.

Sewers Wanted.

Application for sewers are still coming in for action upon by the Sewer Committee, and as the winter progresses it is expected more will come to hand. A number of the property owners on Cleveland street ask that a sewer be built on that street without delay. They state that it is an urgent necessity, as the soil is such that cesspools cannot be maintained there without becoming nuisances. The property owners on Walters street and vicinity ask for a sewer from Yale street to Buena Vista. It is stated that this sewer is a public necessity.

To-Morrow's Rally.

To-morrow evening the Iroquois Club will turn out to escort Reel B. Terry, candidate for Congress, to the speaker's stand on New High street. Besides Mr. Terry, Major George S. Patton will address the meeting, and it is expected there will be an immense assemblage.

THE WOLFF CASE.

The Story of the Husband Told in Court.

The Wolff-Peterson murder trial will probably continue through the week in Department No. 1. Yesterday morning was taken up with the cross-examination of the tailor, Peterson, one of the defendants, who is charged with having been accessory to the shooting. Peterson is a wild appearing man, the weakness of his character showing in his way of speaking and in his confusion on the witness stand. On the cross-examination he got badly wound up at various times, and materially weakened the evidence which he had offered during his examinatien-in-chief.

The afternoon session opened with a long discussion of a point in the law of evidence which had an important bearing on the case as outlined for the defense. The defense does not deny the act of the shooting, but claims sufficient provocation in a movement made by Wilson toward a knife which was supposed to be concealed in his trousers. The question was yesterday asked of Peterson during his direct examination whether he was afraid that Wilson was going to kill Wolff when the former reached toward the supposed knife. The question was objected to by the State as calling for a conclusion on the part of the witness which, as he was not the principal who did the shooting, should not be offered in evidence. The discussion was deferred until yesterday, when the Court ruled the question admissible on the ground that the witness was on trial as an accessory and that his views on the action of Wilson might have affected his own subsequent conduct.

In answer to the question Peterson said: "I thought he was going to kill Wolff with the knife."

He was then cross-examined by the District Attorney and some important facts brought out: viz. that there had been nothing in Wilson's conduct to indicate that he was going to injure Wolff up to the very instant that he made that motion and that the shooting and the motive were simultaneous; also that the witness was frightened so badly that he hardly knew what was happening.

Mrs. Wolff recalled for the defense on the same point, said that she thought when she saw Wilson's motion that he was about to kill her husband, and that she saw him have something in his hand which she took to be the handle of the knife which he had often shown her. She admitted that she was not alarmed until Wilson advanced on her husband. "Wilson once said to me," she declared, "that a knife is much better than a pistol, for you can bury it in a man's heart while he is trying to get his pistol ready to shoot." She had also heard Wilson say to her husband "I am a great deal stronger than you are, and can kill you whenever I want to."

Alfred H. Wolff, the principal of the affair, was then put upon the stand, and his direct examination occupied all the afternoon and will continue for some time in this morning's session. His story of the meeting in the steamer, the life all together in the cabin, the quarrel and the moving to Santa Ana does not differ sufficiently from the same facts as narrated by Mrs. Wolff and Peterson to make its repetition necessary.

"He met me at Pollir's saloon once," said he, "and told me that he loved my wife. There were others around, but he was a big bully, and thought that he could whip me. He said I was no man, and not fit to live with Mrs. Wolff, and tried every way, many times to get me into a fight."

"On the day of the affair we all drove to San Juan; I went, as I wanted to have a money settlement with Wilson. I had carried a loaded pistol ever since the time that he choked me. When we came to Sharp's hotel to get dinner, he came came up to us and followed us around to the corral. I saw Theiso on the porch as we went back, but no one else appeared to be in sight. I could have shot Wilson then if I had wished to do so. He had some liquor in him, but was not very drunk. I was not much excited. When we came to the front of the house again and he started toward me I expected to get the knife thrust into me at any instant. I knew I had to kill him or be killed myself. All the shots were fired in quick succession. After I started shooting I kept on until I saw him fall. I can't remember how many shots there were. I did not wish to kill him, but when I saw him reach for his knife I felt that I had to shoot him, and I did so."

The Court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

BOY BURGLARS.

Detectives Harris and Metzler Work Up a Case.

On Sunday evening between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock a music store at 228 and 230 South Spring street was burglarized and about $100 worth of musical instruments were carried off. The thieves had broken the lock from a showcase and had taken almost all of the instruments it contained. Among these were a couple of zithers, a banjo, a violin and several harmonicas. The matter was reported to Detectives Harris and Metzler, and they managed to unearth not only the plunder but have arrested two of the parties believed to have committed the burglary. They found a pawn shop where a number of harmonicas had been pawned for fifty cents, and they also found a considerable amount of the plunder in a vacant lot near the corner of Seventh and Main streets. One of the alleged thieves, Charles Henderson, was found to be a messenger in the service of the District Telegraph Company, and is a son of very respectable parents. Another youth by the name of Sullivan was arrested, and it is said that his parents are highly respected here. A third youth who is suspected of having had a hand in the robbery is Bob O'Donnell, the night sergeant of the District Telegraph office. Detective Harris went to the office to arrest him, and allowed him to go into the back office to straighten his affairs. While he was in this room the night manager, A. F. McGrew, handed O'Donnell his hat and gave him some money, and O'Donnell slipped away by the back door. McGrew was arrested last evening and charged with aiding a prisoner to escape. It is suspected that this is not the first escapade of these youths, who are not over 18 years of age. The detectives who worked up this case deserve credit for their work.

A GUARDIAN'S ACCOUNT.

A Contest in the Probate Court to Be Heard.

A petition for a contest of a guardian's account in the case of Russell N. Hayes, a minor, was filed yesterday with the County Clerk. The petition alleges that Hayes is now of age and that in the account his guardian only charged herself with $1,980 when, as contestant is informed, she received in money belonging to him $2,069. It is further alleged that the guardian has had the use of his money since she received the same and has not charged herself with any interest although she loaned $500 to J. E. Savage., the interest for which she nas not accounted. It is also alleged that Hayes also rendered services for his guardian amounting to $1,200, with which he has not been credited, and he objects to each and every item of expenditure as excessive. He alleges that a credit of $2,189.86 is shown, which should only be $1,135.29.

A HOTEL TRADE.

The Manner in Which It Was Not Made.

A story of the manner in which the owner of a hotel in one of the suburban cities was relieved of $2,000 has just leaked out. It appears that one of the landed proprietors of South Pasadena counts among other possessions a hotel with grounds surrounding, which is quite a valuable property. Some time last spring he was approached by a stranger who was looking about for a hotel which he could lease. This gentleman had heard that the owner of the hotel, who may be called Nimble, might be induced to lease the hostelry, and in a short time a lease for two years was signed and the stranger took possession. Shortly after the stranger had taken possession, stranger No. 2 appeared and took lodging with board at the hotel. A few days were spent by stranger No. 2 in apparently looking about for a bargain in real estate. Finally he seemed to make up his mind that the hotel itself would be a good investment if he could get it on his own terms. The matter was suggested to Mr. Nimble, and several consultations were held on the subject. The terms finally agreed upon were $35,000, of which $10000 was to be paid cash, and the balance on time. Stranger No. 2 deposited $500 to show that he meant business, and the rest of the $10,000 was to have been paid when he received his money from the East. Some of the conditions to the bargain were that the hotel was, and had been paying, and that the purchaser should take possession upon the payment of the $10,000. Mr. Nimble, satisfied that he was getting a good price for his property, called upon stranger No. 1 and wanted to know how much he would take to give up his two years lease. Stranger No. 1 slept over the matter, and the next morning answered that he would give up the lease for $2,000. Mr. Nimble thought this was reasonable enought, and paid stranger No. 1 the money. This was the last seen of stranger No. 1, and in the meanwhile the hotel passed into the management of another party, who was to turn it over to stranger No. 2, when the $10,000 arrived. Stranger No. 2 looked over the books and found that the hotel had not paid a profit and he informed Mr. Nimble that as the hotel was not as represented he would have to decline to complete the bargain. Mr. Nimble thereupon returned to stranger No. 2 his deposit of $500 in the shape of a note, and it is alleged that stranger No. 2 also disappeared from view. It is now hinted that the two strangers were partners in the neat little transaction and that they divided the $1,500 profits on the venture. At any rate Mr. Nimble is out just that amount of money.

THE STREETS.

The Effect of the Rain on the Thoroughfares.

Now that the City Surveyor has given his estimates as to the cost of opening up First street, the residents and property holders along the proposed new thoroughfare are anxiously awaiting for something to be done. They say that if the plans are to be carried out work should be commenced before the rainy season sets in in full earnest and stops all progress.

The Cable-Car Company has a large force of men fixing its tracks between the north end of the Plaza and Marchessault street, and the contractors who will pave the rest of the street are also going ahead rapidly, so it is thought that the work will be completed inside of a month.

The rain of the past two days shows up a good many weak points in the streets. The roadway on Main street below Sixth has bulged up in hillocks and at the junction of Spring street with Ninth street there is a pool of water about 1 foot deep, 8 feet wide and 20 feet long. On Second street, between Main and Los Angeles, a loaded wagon sunk in the mud yesterday to the hub, and the load had to be removed before the wheels could be extricated. It is of course impossible to keep the newly-paved main thoroughfares clean, as the mud is carried on to them by cart wheels from the adjacent muddy streets.

A Reception.

Cards are out for a social reception by Dr. Sarah I. Shuey and Miss Treat, at Sierra Madre Sanatorium, two miles from Lamanda Park Station, Tuesday, October 23rd, between the hours of 3 and 6 P. M. The Sanatorium lies adjacent to Sierra Madre Villa Hotel and Hon. Abbot Kinney's country residence, and commands a magnificent view of the San Gabriel Valley. It has become a popular asylum for the sick and convalescent, and the hospitality of its proprietors always makes it a delightful place to visit. Dr. Shuey and Miss Treat have made hosts of friends in the county since founding their creditable institution, and it goes without saying that their reception next Tuesday will be largely attended.

Slow Progress.

Travelers to the east side complain that work on the Downey avenue bridge is progressing very slowly. Only a handful of workmen are employed, and to those who have to make a roundabout trip on account of this thoroughfare being stopped this is scarcely pleasing.

A Claim to Human Gratitude.

Charlotte Corday, the sad-faced, tender-hearted peasant girl of Normandy made a great history by one desperate act!

Sickened by the saturnalia of the French revolution, and moved to desperation as Robespierre and Marat were leading the flower of France to the guillotine, she determined that she would put an end to Marat's bloody reign.

Marat had demanded two hundred thousand victims for the guillotine!

He proposed to kill off the enemies of the Revolution to make it perpetual!

Horrible thought!

No wonder it fired the blood of this patriotic peasant maid!

Gaining access to his closely guarded quarters by a subterfuge, she found him in his bath, even then inexorable and giving written directions for further slaughter!

He asked for the names of the inimical deputies who had taken refuge in Caen. She told him, and he wrote them down. "That is well! Before a week is over they shall all be brought to the guillotine."

At these words, Charlotte drew from her bosom the knife, and plunged it with supernatural force up to the hilt in the heart of Marat.

"Come to me, my dear friend, come to me," cried Marat, and expired under the blow!

In the Corcoran gallery at Washington is a famous painting of Charlotte, represented as behind the prison bars the day before her execution.

It is a thrilling, sad picture, full of sorrow for her suffering country, and of unconquerable hate for her country's enemies.

What a lesson in this tragic story! Two hundred, nay five hundred thousand people would Marat have sacrificed to his unholy passion of power!

Methods are quite as murderous and inexorable as men, and they number their victims by the millions.

The page of history is full of murders by authority and by mistaken ideas! In the practice of medicine alone how many hundreds of millions have been allowed to die and as many more killed by unjustifiable bigotry and by bungling!

But the age is bettering. Men and methods are improving. A few years ago it was worth one's professional life to advise or permit the use of a proprietary medicine. To-day there are not two physicians in any town in this country who do not regularly prescribe some form of proprietary remedy!

H. H. Warner, famed all over the world as the discoverer of Warner's safe cure, began hunting up the old remedies of the Log Cabin days; after long and patient research he succeeded in securing some of the most valuable, among family records, and called them Warner's Log Cabin remedies—the simple preparations of roots, leaves, balsams and herbs which were the successful standbys of our grandmothers. These simple, old-fashioned sarsaparilla, hops and buchu, cough and consumption and other remedies have struck a popular chord and are in extraordinary demand all over the land. They are not the untried and imaginary remedies of some dabster chemist intent on making money, but the long-sought principles of the healing art which for generations kept our ancestors in perfect health, put forth for the good of humanity by one who is known all over the world as a philanthropist—a lover of his fellow man—whose name is a guarantee of the highest standard of excellence.

The preparations are of decided and known influence over disease, and as in the hands of our grandmothers they raised up the sick, cured the lame and bound up the wounds of death, so in their new form but olden power as Log Cabin remedies, they are sure to prove the "healing of the nations."

Corday did the world an incalculable service in ridding France of the bigoted and murderous Marat, just as this man is doing humanity a service by re-introducing to the world the simpler and better methods of our ancestors.

SANTA ANA.

Reel B. Terry Shakes the Democracy Up.

EDITORS HERALD—We had another rousing Democratic meeting in our city last evening. A large crowd assembled at the stand prepared for them to hear Mr. R. B. Terry, nominee for Congress from this district, and Colonel L. E. Messmore, our fellow-townsman of Orange.

At 7:30 o'clock Mr. Baker, editor of the Standard, called the meeting to order, naming Messrs. Hagar and Northcross, of Orange, Brooks, of Pomona, Adams, of Tustin, and several other gentlemen as Vice-Presidents. Mr. Wilson was appointe d Secretary. After listening to two soul-inspiring campaign songs by the fine Glee Club of the city and several pieces of music from our brass band, the Chairman presented to the large crowd assembled our candidates who were present—Judge Dupuy, for District Attorney, Mr. T. E. Rowan, for Sheriff, and Mr. C. E. J. White, for Auditor—each of whom made a short speech presenting their claims for the offices they are seeking. Mr. R. B. Terry was then introduced. He said it was the first time he had ever had the pleasure of addressing an audience in Santa Ana, and was highly gratified at seeing the large crowd who were before him. He hoped and expected that there were many Republicans in the audience, and said that he would not hurt the feelings of any if they were there, but would tell them of the good doctrine their leaders had advocated four years ago, and of the platform their party ran on at that time, the principal plank of which was the reduction in the tariff; but Mr. Blaine now says since the Democrats, through their noble leader, has advocated this reduction, that the Democratic party are for free trade. He said there were other candidates in the field, Mr. Fisk was the nominee of the Prohibition party and Mr. Curtis of the American; with those parties we have no contest. It is between the Republicans and Democrats. Both parties met forty-seven years ago; both proposed to reduce the tariff. The Republicans had enjoyed the series of power for twenty-four years, and had maintained that power by appealing to the fears and passions of the people against the South. You were told business ruin would follow if the Democrats got into power. Cleveland and Hendricks were elected; their prophecies have failed; no Confederate bonds have been sold for the last three years and a half, nor will there be any sold unless Levi P. Morton, the British banker, is elected, as he may have some of them in his hands. Would like to call your attention to some things done: His appointments have been made of men of the best character, who have enjoyed the esteem of all who knew them, and the men appointed to the Pacific Coast especially—Hagar, who was appointed in San Francisco. He gave some force to the anti-Chinese bill, and refused to land many of the "pig tails," when some of their prominent men had been selling certificates to them. The act was nullified by Republican Judges who permitted them to land by issuing writs of "habeas corpus." These things have been permitted under a Republican Administration, and the Democratic party has and is using their utmost endeavors to remedy the evil. O'Connell said he could drive a British coach with four horses through any act of British Parliament. Sawyer could land a load of Coolies in defiance of the law. Cleveland was elected on an anti-Chinese platform, and has stood up to the principles of the platform. A bill was introduced by W. L. Scott through the recommendations of the man in the White House, who, though he has an immense neck, has a spinal column to go with it, and a large head full of sound, logical common sense, and honesty above it. This bill went through the lower House with a large majority, and how did it stand in the Senate? It was voted against by three Republicans and one Democrat. Cleveland has done in three years and a-half what had not been done for twenty-five years under a Republican Administration. Chinese exclusion is a fixed fact. What about our land matters? Our public lands, won by the blood of our forefathers, has been given away by a Republican Administration. Many acres have been returned to the Government by the legislators of the present Administration. Some fine bodies of land in San Luis Obispo and other parts of the country by the ruling of Commissioner Sparks under Secretary Lamar. He met an old Republican friend since he had been canvassing his district, who said he would vote for Cleveland and Thurman, thereby showing his gratitude for the lovely home he now owned, but which he had been robbed of by Republican administrations, but that had been returned to him under the one we are now governed. Look at the amount of fine timber lands we are robbed of covered with fine bodies of redwood, sugar-pine, etc., now owned by foreign syndicates not indentified with us, but who had the land gobbled up by hiring men to go out as their stool pigeons and sign away their rights to them, fraudulently obtained. He said under Cleveland these wrongs would be righted if he could get the assistance he desired. He said Blaine knew he was licked, consequently he declined to allow his name presented at the last Convention, and that like the Englishmen who fought John L. Sullivan, did not want to meet his opponent in the second round. He says Cleveland's message was a British free trade document and that was why he opposed it. You kind friends read it, in times of peace you are paying war taxes. There is a surplus of $130,000,000 in the Treasury, and is put where it can do no good, and $6,000,000 are brought into it every month. Men for protection will consent to pay the taxes. A calculation was then made to show the expenses of the Government. Taxation should only be made to meet expenses. Williams says tariff is not a taxation, it is a license. It is a taxation upon the great masses of the country. He dwelt at some length upon the tariff introduced by R. J. Walker, the country grew and prospered under it. The money was distributed among the masses, and there were no tramps from 1846 to 1862. What changed the tariff, the unfortunate civil war started in 1861. Morrill's bill was introduced ranging the tariff from eighteen per cent. to thirty-five per cent. It was a war tariff. We then had internal taxes on railroads, banks, telegraph companies, manufactories, etc. In April, 1865, Lee surrendered, 23 years ago. Has the tax been reduced since then? Internal taxes on the rich bank deposits, railroads, etc., have all been removed. This war tax was not left at thirty-five per cent.; it is to-day forty-seven per cent., and the burden is on the working man. This legislation is not altogether done by the Senators and Congressmen, but by a clap of lobbyists, all fat, as they live on the fat of the land. They are called attorneys. They represent the different interest; * the lumber interest, the coal interest, the steel interest, but the biggest part, if not all, represent the steal interest. These men operate on your representatives, and money does the business. And each lobbyist believes in the old maxim, "you tickle me, and I'll tickle you." The congressional elections have been all bought. Heard and Morrison were beaten with money, and they are trying to beat Mills, of Texas, but they will be mistaken. "It is a doubtful State." He then drew a comparison between the luxuries and the necessaries of life, showing that the legislation of the Republicans is exclusively for the benefit of the rich man, and the burden of taxation placed upon the poor man. He spoke of their consistency, presenting a bill in the Senate reducing the tariff more than the Mills bill, unfortunately, however, the taxation benefits the rich, not the poor. Their bill is a sectional measure, the Mills bill is not. The Mills bill puts wool, coal, lumber and salt on the free list, and advocates a moderate tariff. If this is in favor of your interest, vote for it. He then spoke of several other matters of interest, but space prevents me going further. He said, if you see fit to elect me, I will attend to your interests that have been neglected; I will make this Congress feel the importance of the district I represent. He complimented the ladies of Santa Ana valley, assuring them that by their power and knowing that they had power, that he would promise them assistance in reducing the taxes on the necessaries of life, and not advocate free whisky and free tobacco.

Col. Messmore then being presented, said he admired the quiet attention of the ladies and gentlemen who had listened so attentively to the young orator who had so ably addressed them, and who was well qualified and should be elected to the position he sought for. Young friends, said he, this is a year of political education. Would the man be elected who enforces the principles enunciated by the parties who have been in power for a quarter of a century, whose acts have been so lucidly presented by Mr. Terry, or would you elect the man whose ideas had been thrown broadcast by his message, a thought discussed many years ago. Daniel Webster discussed it in 1822 and 1828, so did Henry Clay, and Thomas Benton, and W. H. Seward. Discussed by them and understood. It is here again, the question of tariff, and the growing generation are thinking. It is a question of taxation, a tariff, never a tax. He said the Republican party was the party of the rich man, and that their legislation had been for the benefit of such men as Carnegie, who was riding in Scotland with his boon companion, James G. Blaine, with his coach and four and enjoying all the luxuries, while the poor operatives who had enabled him, by their labor, to enjoy it were glad to get the necessaries and a cot to rest their wearied limbs on. The Colonel then spoke of the candidates. He said Judge Dupuy was a man of fine ability, a fine jurist, had conducted his office in a manner highly creditable to himself and the county, and deserved the office he sought again to fill, District Attorney. Mr. T. E. Rowan, a man whom all know to be efficient, affable and courteous to all, one whom none knew but to admire, and was always ready to serve his friends, had filled many places of trust, was capable of filling more, and should you elevate him to the office of Sheriff, which he seeks, his genial smile will always be ready to welcome his friends and make them feel as he always has done, at home in his office. Mr. C. E. White, you all know him, he is your old citizen and is at home with you. He is your candidate for County Auditor, and is well qualified to fill the position, as you all know having shown his capability here, and should he be elected, and I do hope you will elect him, he will keep for you as correct a set of books that is kept in the county, and always be ready to give you all the information you require when you go to the Auditor's office. He said this was his first campaign in California, this God's country, this, the finest land the sun ever shown on, (and he was happy to say that he had saved his vote) this country when the gentle breezes are wafted over it from the peaceful ocean, and when the sweet dews are distilled from the heavens and that when the Angel Gabriel (after he has done his duty in placing the noble men we have as standard bearers in their position) will say, I don't know that you can do any better, but come up higher and we will welcome you. Z.

Santa Ana, Cal., October 17, 1888.

"Times" Falsehoods and Base Insinuations.

EDITORS HERALD—It was quite remote from me to ask any more space in your paper on the discussion of the new Charter, so clandestinely, so hurriedly and so indecently, tried to be crammed into the craniums, and forced on the workingmen by promising them a million dollar sewer to work on—(if the contractor does not do it by Chinese labor.) Howld aisey gintlemen, you shall have your sewer as soon as the workingmen shall have the Anti-Chinese clause and the eight hour law in your Charter and their Charter.

Now to the falsehoods and libels of the Times: It refused to put in the letter sent by authority of the Central Conference of Labor, and concocted a No. 4 crediting it to said letter. This No. 4 objecting to a salary to the Councilmen is a flat falsehood; I claim the credit of being the first in this city, to publicly demand that the old Charter should be amended, so as to pay a reasonable salary to every Councilman, so that the poor might send intelligent representatives there, poor like themselves, and being paid for their time, should not be tempted to violate their pledges to the people; and be held strictly accountable to them for duty honestly performed. This I have done in the Council and in public meetings, and in the papers of this city this last ten years. Again, the Times of this morning says: "The HERALD, which went against the previous one, (Charter) is again pursuing a similar course. * * * * * * Some chronic agitators, who pose as workingmen, are also barking up the same tree, trying to make the laboring men believe that the new Charter will interfere with the rights of the laborer. One thing is sure * * * if the ill advised efforts of these men to continually place obstacles in the path of the city's progress should succeed, there will be very little labor left for the workingmen to quarrel over. Let the workingmen voters of Los Angeles put that in their pipes and smoke it, before they follow the counsel of hired agitators."

Now, Mr. Editor, the three so-called "hired agitators" who presented, that accepted, that rejected, that smothered, that lied about letter, from the highest conference of United Labor in Los Angeles, are called by the following very humble names; E. S. Livermore, job printer, 113 Los Angeles street; Langford Bevan, at Hayward Bros., 357 Upper Main; Jessie H. Butler, watchmaker, 9 East First street. Now let the libeler Times specify what is the price of the hire of these agitators, so as to put the cowardly libel into shape; and be sure not to state what is his price, or darkening counsel by words without truth, decency or honor.

The Express did publish the letter, but tried to brush away our truths with baits and sophistries, as old as Socrates, Plato and Aristotle, and the sophists who opposed them.

The one-sided Tribune took in the letter and buried it, just as the worker will do with their pet aristocratic and dyspeptic Charter, and so half made up that the very dogs bark at it when they attempt to show up its illshapen limbs. I again state that there is to be a ministerial, pro-virtue, secret, select party, who agree to rush this new Charter through, so that its advocates shall go in with them, and elect their virtuous candidates and the Tribune and truly virtuous are to be their apostles we suppose by their suppressing all agitation on the one-eyed calf.

When that million-dollar sewer is finished by the dupes of these hired agitators, we will donate our share of the expense of burying the truly virtuous and its associate hired bullies in its tranquil depths of sweet waters, to the solemn requiem of "Old Mother Goose." Respectfully, JESSE H. BUTLER.

HOLLYWOOD!

The beautiful foothill suburb of Los Angeles at Cahuenga Pass is higher than the highest point in the city. This most lovely spot is situated six miles west of Los Angeles in the frostless belt. It possesses the finest soil in the world—nothing equal to it elsewhere. It will grow successfully the most delicate flower or tender plant in midwinter, without irrigation; in fact, we never irrigate this foothill land. It does not require it. It is a very healthy location. No malaria, but little fog, pure, unmolested ocean breeze every day in the year. Pure, soft water. Therefore no more healthy location can be found anywhere. Fine view of ocean vessels, city, valley and mountain. We defy competition in all of the advantages that go to make A DESIRABLE SPOT FOR A HOME! It cannot be beat. Yes, it cannot be equaled. I know this is saying a great deal. I am willing to stake my reputation on what I say. I am residing at Hollywood, and intend to make it our permanent home. A number of fine buildings are now being built at this point. Water is being piped. Cement sidewalks are being put down. The Cahuenga Valley Railroad is finished to this place, and six trains each way are now running on this road. See time table. This railroad is running in connection with the Second-street Cable. Half-fare tickets will be sold to persons residing at Hollywood, thus affording splendid connection with the city. The Los Angeles County Railroad will soon be completed and running to this place.

HOLLYWOOD

Is now for the first time offered for sale, at low prices and easy terms, in quantities to suit purchasers. Special inducements will be offered to persons making valuable improvements, until a certain number of fine houses are secured. After that is done, then land and lots at this point will be held firm for what they are really worth. There is from 6 to 7 acres in a block, and nearly a half acre in a lot. Ask any old citizen of Los Angeles about this location, and then call on me at Hollywood, or WILCOX & SHAW, 34 North Spring street, or on any good reliable real estate firm in Los Angeles, all of whom are hereby authorized to act as my agents.

The Gerrymander.

Our esteemed Republican contemporaries pretend to think that the new Charter does not gerrymander the city in the interest of its party. By the apportionment proposed one ward will comprise that part of the city known as East Los Angeles. The river bounds it on one side and Mission road on the other. As all people know who know anything about the political complexion of our population, that section of the city is overwhelmingly Republican. Boyle Heights is also a ward, another section where no Democrat would have a ghost of a show. A third ward lies in the northwest portion of the city, embracing all the way out Temple street, Angeleño Heights, Victor Heights, the hills between Temple and Second streets. It lies all west of Main street. It is that portion of the present Second ward where nearly all the Republican votes of that ward are found. It is Republican by a large majority. The next proposed subdivision is the heart of the present Third ward, which is Republican beyond redemption. To be sure it is at present represented by two men who ran on a Democratic ticket, but it is too well known to merit discussion that they hold their seats by virtue of Republican votes, and in all party questions in the Council they side with the Republican party. The next subdivision is the strip lying west of Main street and between Seventh and Washington, which is surely Republican. Then we have a ward comprising all the southwest section of the city lying west of Main and stretching to the University. It is Dr. Sinsabaugh's bailiwick, and is very heavily Republican. Here are the six Republican wards out of a total nine. There is no doubt about the Republican majority in all of them. The southern portion of the city between Main and the river is a ward, and that is fairly debatable ground. The portion lying directly north of this last, between Main and the river, is also about evenly divided politically. Then comes the heart of the city below Main to the river with the corners of Los Angeles street and Commercial as its center, where the great body of the Democratic vote is all huddled up into one ward. No man who is well acquainted with the vote in these several sections can doubt for a moment that the gerrymander is complete. To say otherwise brands the speaker as ignorant of the facts, or as wilfully misstating them. To say that after the city is turned over, delivered up, bound hand and foot to a Republican Council, that same Council so constituted will re-district the city in the interest of fair play to the Democracy, is childish, is the most utter rubbish. It is trash no sane man will swallow. The man who puts forward such an argument is dealing in subterfuge, and the people will know it, and they will know he is doing it for no good purpose. Let us make sure of a fair Charter by voting down this one.

LET all who are opposed to the proposed new Charter prepare to vote it down to-morrow. Voters whose names are not on the Great Register of two years ago, must procure certificates of registration at the Clerk's office. To-day is the last day to procure them.

Cheap Fuel the Factor.

The commendable effort now being made by our citizens to effect an energetic organization that will take an active and intelligent interest in developing our resources and inducing the establishment of manufactories in Los Angeles, shows that our people are alive to the fact we must do something more than talk—that we must act if we hope to place our city on the high pinnacle of industrial prosperity she is capable of reaching. Our resources of soil are really unlimited. For their full and richest development we require a continuous accession of farmers from the East. In order to induce this accession we should continue to spread reliable information throughout the States to the east of us. The competition for passengers amongst the overland railroads has reduced the fare to California to a rate that opens our State to the Easterner at moderate cost. It costs but little more to reach California from the States this side of Chicago than it has in the past to reach those States from the Middle or New England States. This is a strong point in our favor. The advantages of soil and climate and the character of production of this section are so great over those of the old States that the volume of the immigration would only depend upon the dissemination of accurate information on the subject.

The establishment of manufacturing industries in this city has been greatly retarded on account of the cost of fuel. Whilst we have at our hand an exhaustless supply of petroleum, yet its cost to consumers is far higher than it ought to be. It should not cost more here for petroleum to run our furnaces than it costs in Pennsylvania. We have as fine a quality of it right here in our county as ever came from the wells of the Quaker State; and those who have made a specialty of the study of our oil belt pronounce it more extensive than that of Pennsylvania. Now, the only reason why oil should be dearer here than there is the lack of facilities for conveying it cheaply to the place of its use. We look upon the suggestion of Mr. Wicks, to establish pipe lines between this city and the oil districts, as the one thing to be done to secure to manufactories here cheap fuel. Let us by all means see to it that this admirable suggestion is carried out. To bring pipe lines from the Puente and from Pico cañon would cost but little in comparison with the saving that would ensue in the cost of petroleum, and the advantages that would flow to Los Angeles from cheap fuel, are simply incalculable.

The committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who are now elaborating their report on this subject, to be presented at the next meeting, will doubtless give us all the data that we require to arouse a public interest in this important subject that will lead to the early laying of pipe lines from our petroleum districts.

It is only a question of boring to find natural gas wells in the immediate vicinity of Los Angeles. Five or six years ago, the natural gas emitted from a hole dug just outside the western boundary of our city, was confined in a barrel placed on the aperture, and a common gas burner inserted in the head of the barrel was lit, giving forth a fine blaze, which burned for several days. At another point the cooking of a household was done by natural gas conveyed into the kitchen stove. We may have to bore deep to get a permanent and sufficient supply of natural gas; but that we have it in unlimited quantity at our very door, we have not the slightest doubt.

Blaine's Reckless Statements.

How can we expect the Republican small-fry orators and the presses of that party to tell the truth, when their great oracle and leader is going before the people and in set speeches making the most baseless and reckless statements. Perhaps no one interested in the success of the Democratic party should object to the habitual perversions of Blaine, for they must certainly react with terrible effect upon the prospects of the Republican party. The American people are intelligent, and when they are deliberately deceived by such a man as Blaine, they are very apt to resent it in a way that will prove injurious to the cause Blaine is ostensibly trying to advance. If John Smith tries to get William Jones to buy a horse and lies about the animal's points, and Jones knows it, the chances are ten to one that Jones will send Smith and his horse kiting. So it is with Blaine and the spavined party he is trying to boost up by deliberate falsification. The people he is trying to cajole will not be slow to tell him, when they have found out his deception, that he may take his old party and himself out of their sight — they have no use for that kind of politics which can only be made to look respectable by the aid of the grossest prevarication. When Blaine spoke at New Albany a few days ago, he repeated, but in more emphatic language, the untruthful statements he had made in his speeches East, about the Secretary of the Treasury loaning the Government money to pet banks and refusing to buy outstanding bonds. He said:

I said before, and I repeat now, that if a Republican Secretary of the Treasury had loaned sixty millions to pet banks all over the country, without interest, the Democratic party, if they controlled the House of Representatives, would have moved to impeach him, and I believe it. I do not say that the Republicans would so treat Secretary Fairchild had they control of the House, because Republicans are not fond of violent methods, but are accustomed to proceeding with caution and moderation in public affairs. They don't wish to impeach him before the Senate, but they impeach him before the high court of the people for having done that which was plainly against the public interest, and for having failed to respond to the precedent set by former Secretaries of the Treasury in faithfully and constantly applying the surplus to a reduction of the public debt.

Since June 1, 1885, the Secretary of the Treasury has bought over $276,000,000 in bonds, and is continually buying them. He has not devoted all the surplus to this purpose, for the reason that the bond speculators have so cornered the bonds to obtain exorbitant premiums that only limited quantities can be had at reasonable rates. Secretary Fairchild fully explained to the great meeting in Wall street three days ago, all the operations of the Treasury in connection with the financial strigency consequent on the diversion of money for moving of the crops this year. His explanation was satisfactory in every respect, and was a full answer to Blaine's reckless statements. The stringency was relieved by depositing money in National banks that furnished the security required in the shape of United States bonds. He showed that nearly every one of these banks were officered by Republicans.

But what shall we say of Blaine's declaration that if a Republican Secretary of the Treasury had loaned sixty millions to pet banks all over the country a Democratic House of Representatives would have moved for his impeachment. In other words, Mr. Blaine says that no Republican Secretary of the Treasury had ever loaned money to pet banks. In a public document entitled "Specie Resumption and Refunding," sent to the Forty-sixth Congress by Hon. John Sherman, Republican Secretary of the Treasury, at pages 984 and 985, is a statement of "Assets of the United States Treasury." Among these assets are the following items for seven successive months:

DEPOSITS HELD BY NATIONAL BANK DEPOSITORIES.

February 1, 1879	$166,357,141 26
March 1, 1879	249,586,805 22
April 1, 1879	226,681,802 01
May 1, 1879	260,760,430 69
June 1, 1879	276,442,471 38
July 1, 1879	201,402,860 97
August 1, 1879	97,078,837 26

Here is from three to four times the amount of money in each month of 1879, excepting August, deposited by Sherman over the amount deposited by Fairchild. Blaine was in Congress at the time Sherman was making these deposits in pet Republican banks, yet we never heard of any protest or objection from him. With Blaine it makes all the difference in the world whether a transaction is labeled "Republican" or "Democratic" to arouse his admiration or provoke his ire.

The Lumber Trusts.

A writer in the current number of the Overland Monthly says, as regards the tariff, that lumber is in a worse category than salt. It is used by everybody. In the great Northwest, Middle West, and Pacific States in particular, it is in universal use in every kind of building. There is no other material from which the houses, barns, and granaries can be made. The farmer and the mechanic alike must pay the tariff tax of $2 per thousand feet on every bit of this article of necessity he may use, and by this tariff tax great lumber trusts have spread themselves over the entire country. In the Mississippi Valley every lumberman must belong to them; the price of lumber at wholesale and retail is controlled by them. On the Pacific Coast the lumbermen ask what price they choose and get it. When we remember that more than 24,000,000,000 feet of lumber are cut in the United State we can realize to some extent the great tax that is levied upon the consumer. And it is an unnecessary one, too. From 1854 to 1861, when the reciprocity treaty was in force with Canada and lumber was on the free list, the industry was never more flourishing.

The claim of the lumber kings and their supporters that the tariff must be maintained to protect the laborers is a sham. In the great lumber States of Maine and Michigan respectively, the laborers are paid $170 and $305 per year; while the capitalists receive $285 and $337 per year upon every $1,000 invested. Is it strange that no single industry has in the last twenty-five years produced so great fortunes? More millionaires are produced in this than in any other business. In the Northwest States lumber property has increased in value from 300 to 500 per cent., whereas the property of the agricultural community, who are compelled to pay a great part of the tax for lumber, has only increased one per cent. By the removal of the duty Canadian lumber would compete with these lumber monopolis's and would do much to keep prices regulated, while enough of it could not be imported to seriously affect the home industry. Protected lumber means high-priced lumber; this and nothing more.

A DEMOCRATIC contemporary asks, "where are our ships?" Just so! They have been driven from the high seas by English ships who were protected, subsidized and enabled to secure control of our commerce because we failed to enable our seamen by similar means of encouragement and strength to do what they were otherwise unable to perform. Republicans would extend needed protection, Democrats refuse it and thus enable England to rule the waves and control the commerce of the world.—[Pasadena Star.

The writer of the above insufferable rubbish seems not to know that when his party came into power the American merchant marine was only second to that of Great Britain, and that there was only the width of a hair between the two in carrying capacity, efficiency and profit; that after twenty-four years of such protection as eagles give to doves, when his party happily went out of power this pride of every American was a ruined enterprise. His party protected the American commercial navy off the seas. Hugh McCulloch, a Lincoln Republican, a cabinet minister of his party, is excellent authority. He tells all about it in a magazine article of the current month. But the driveling imbecility which knows nothing cannot be expected to read magazine articles.

CITY TAXES will be delinquent after the fifth day of next November. There are only fourteen days more in which to pay up. The last few days the collector's office will be so overrun with people that it will take hours to transact the business of each one. Pay up before the great rush comes, and thus save much trouble to yourself.

CONGRESS.

The Skeleton Rattles Its Dry Bones.

THE DAY OF ADJOURNMENT SET.

Connecticut Laborers and Manufacturers Demand Free Raw Materials.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, October 18.—In the Senate to-day, Gray, in the absence of the Connecticut Senators, presented a memorial of 500 citizens of Connecticut workingmen and manufacturers, that raw materials, particularly wool, salt, lumber and tin plate be admitted free of duty. Laid on table.

The resolution for a recess from Saturday next to the 19th of November was taken up. Paddock moved to amend by making the recess begin on the 27th inst. and end on the 12th of November.

Brown, of Georgia, offered a resolution for the final adjournment of this session at 1 o'clock next Saturday. He said he did not believe that the passage of the Tariff bill would be facilitated by a prolongation of the session. If the Democrats were successful at the coming Presidential election, something like the Mills bill would be passed; if the Republicans were successful, something like the Senate bill would be passed. Popular opinion on the subject would be known after the election.

A discussion followed. Allison accepted Brown's resolution, and on the vote the majority of the Democrats voted in the affirmative and the majority of the Republicans in the negative. There was no demand for a division, and the Chair, after a longer pause than usual, declared the concurrent resolution adopted.

Teller offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Indian Affairs to inquire as to the truth of the report that the Secretary of the Interior purchased a large number of wagons for the Indian service, manufactured with prison labor in Tennessee. He made a few remarks on the subject, intimating especially against the Commerce of Indian Affairs. After a lively debate between Teller, Bate and Cockrell the resolution went over on objection by Cockrell. The Senate then took a recess of half an hour, in expectation of some messages from the President.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the Tariff bill, and was addressed by Aldrich. He (Aldrich) asserted that a table concerning the tariff rates in the House and Senate bills, furnished by the Bureau of Statistics, and produced some days ago by Vest, was full of misstatements and errors, and entirely inaccurate and misleading, and that the Bureau officials, if they know anything about the subject, must have known that it was so,

The discussion was continued by Senators Frye, Evarts and Teller. Cockrell replied to Aldrich's criticism on the tables of the Bureau, and said that they were perfectly correct and had been made out under headings prepared by himself, by Keppenstein, a Russian employee of the Bureau, who had been in the department at least since '79 and who had no interest directly or indirectly in any misrepresentation.

Allison offered a resolution authorizing the Finance Committee to continue its investigation into tariff matters. Laid over until to-morrow.

Adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

The Senate Resolution to Adjourn Concurred In.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—Cox was in the chair at the opening of the House to-day. Farquhar, of New York, complained of the absence of the Speaker, and inveigled against keeping "the skeleton of the House in session while the political game was going on."

Richardson, of Tennessee, called for the regular order. Farquhar made the point of no quorum. The chair ruled that he could not officially decide that there was no quorum, as the House had not been counted.

The journal then was read, and the chair asked if it should be approved. Taylor, of Ohio, objected, and raised the point of no quorum. The Speaker said that on examination he found that it was the duty of the Speaker, not of the House, to approve the journal, and the journal was then approved.

The bill granting the right-of-way to a water company across an Indian reservation in Arizona, was called up. The Senate amendments were rejected.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the committee on appropriations to sit during vacation.

The Speaker pro tem laid before the House adjournment resolution of the Senate.

McMillin, of Tennessee, made a review of the work of what he termed the present extraordinary session of Congress, he voting himself especially to the consideration of the action on the tariff.

What seemed to be an interminable discussion followed, and was participated in by Bayne, Turner, Breckinridge of Kentucky, B. Taylor and others. The main feature of the debate was on the question whether Mr. Havemeyer's visit to Washington and his alleged appearance before the Ways and Means Committee had anything to do with increasing the duties on sugar in the Mills bill, the Democrats denying the proposition and the Republicans affirming it.

The Senate resolution for final adjournment was then concurred in. Adjourned.

CAPITAL CULLINGS.

Celestials Who Will Be Permitted to Land, Etc.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—In a telegram received by the Treasury Department, the Collector at San Francisco announces the arrival at his port of the American steamer Bertha with ninety Chinese laborers. The steamer, he says, cleared at Kodiak Island, Alaska, whither they went from San Francisco. The Collector asks for a ruling whether the Chinese should be permitted to land. In reply, Assistant Secretary Maynard says that these Chinamen may be regarded as never having left the United States and may therefore be permitted to land. He advises, however, that strict proof of this be demanded.

JUDGE TERRY'S PETITION.

Judge Shellabarger to-day filed application in the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of David S. Terry, of California, sentenced by Judge Field to imprisonment for contempt of court.

The petition in Judge Terry's behalf takes the ground that his committal was void for the reason that the prisoner was not present in the court at the time sentence was imposed upon him.

NOTES.

The Secretary of War has appointed a court of inquiry to investigate the charges of defective work in the Washington aqueduct tunnel.

It is stated on good authority that the President has promised to visit New York before election, and review a parade of the business men of that city, but it is not his intention to make a speech.

The Sioux Chiefs have not yet submitted their answer to the President's proposition of yesterday, made to them by Secretary Vilas, but it is understood they have decided not to accept it.

BROADSWORD CONTEST.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., October 18.—The broadsword contest this afternoon between Byran Lynn, of this city, a member of the Connecticut National Guard, and Xavier Orlofsky, of the German Black Hussars, developed so much bad blood that the police interfered and stopped the fight after the second attack. When Linn first rode up and saluted Orlofsky, the latter retaliated by giving him a bad cut on the wrist. This made the crowd very indignant. The contest proceeded in an exciting manner. The New Haven man had the better of the fight, and the score stood: Lynn 8, and Orlofsky 6 points. When the men came together in the second bout, Lynn greatly surprised the German by unhorsing him. At this the latter became enraged, and rushing up to Lynn struck him across his sword arm. The crowd then made a break for Olofsky, and the police had a lively time keeping them off. When order was partially restored, the chief of police stopped the fight. The referee decided the score to be Lynn 9 points, Orlofsky 5 points, and ordered the fight continued at some future time.

St. Andrews Brothers.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The third annual Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew opened this morning, and almost 200 delegates listened to the address of welcome delivered by Bishop Potter. The roll of cities represented was called for credentials. When a fine looking man answered the call for Salt Lake, Utah, there was applause. The following officers were elected: Edmund Billings of Boston, President; F. C. Cutter, Marion, Ga., First Vice-President; W. S. Mather, Cleveland, Ohio, Second Vice-President; H. A. Sill, New York, Third Vice-President; John J. Kennedy, Omaha, Secretary, and W. N. Sturgis, Chicago, Assistant Secretary.

Fever Bulletin.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., October 17.—Following is the official bulletin for the twenty-four hours ended at 6 o'clock this evening: New cases, 36; deaths, 3. Total number of cases to date, 3,663; total number of deaths, 321. Advices from Fernandino say there were 32 new cases and 2 deaths there October 15th, and on October 16th, 37 new cases and 3 deaths.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 18 — A special from Decatur, Ala., says: Three new cases are reported to-day. H. C. Jones, President of the Board of Relief, was taken down this morning, and it is feared that he will have a bad time. Two deaths are reported for the twenty-four hours ending at noon to-day.

Expected Indemity.

CHICAGO, October 18.—Dr. J. L. Gunning, of Amsterdam, who represents a Dutch bondholder in the Maxwell land grant, in this city, says arrangements will shortly be made at Washibgton to indemnify settlers on the grant who bought when Secretary Cox, of the Interior Department, decided that the Maxwell grant was not valid.

Increasing Speed.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The Inman line steamer City of New York arrived from Liverpool this morning after a passage of six days and twelve hours, the best third trial record in shipping annals. It is thought the big steamer will later get over the ocean voyage in a little over five days, and thus carry out the promises of her builder.

An Early Rain.

The Signal Service report of the weather for yesterday as it appears in the HERALD this morning gives a total precipitation for the preceding 24 hours of nearly a third of an inch of rain. All day yesterday the sky was much overcast with an appearance of more rain to follow. At 12 o'clock last night the signs were rather for clear weather, although the sky was not yet serene.

This rain is a full month ahead of time. The beginning of the rainy season is not properly due here before the latter half of November. Moreover the rain so far as agriculture is concerned is not beneficial. It has not been copious enough to do much harm, but whatever effect it has produced has been bad. It catches more or less hay and grain still exposed. It rots the dry feed on the ground. It spoils any grapes that are not gathered. And it rots root crops to some extent. The sweet potato crop suffers particularly. Then there is the corn crop all exposed to it.

In another way the light rain is not so bad. It washes the air free of all sorts of impurity. It lays the dust; and, as it will be followed by fresh ocean winds, the air will be balmy after it, and the roads will be perfection. Outdoor life in this region is made even more attractive than before by such light showers. We may expect to see the weather clear at once, and that we shall enjoy many weeks of the loveliest weather before the rainy season sets in in earnest.

THE PROPOSED MAUSOLEUM.

Continued Wrangling About Mackenzie's Book — General Foreign News.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

BERLIN, October 18.—The foundation stone of the mausoleum of Emperor Frederick at Potsdam was laid at 2:50 P. M. to-day, in the presence of the Empress Dowager, ex-Empress Victoria and her daughter, the Duke of Spada and others. Prince Frederick Leopold, of Saxe-Meiningen, read an address on the objects of the memorial. The municipal authorities presented to ex-Empress Victoria an address, stating that in grateful recognition of Emperor Frederick's efforts to develop the capital of the Empire, the people desired to found an institution to perpetuate his memory, and £25,000 would be granted for the purpose. The precise objects of the proposed institute would be left to the discretion of the ex-Empress, the noble partner of Emperor Frederick in his efforts for the people's welfare and enlightenment, and they were confident that she was the best fitted to carry out the Emperor's wishes. The Empress appeared deeply moved, and expressed her heartfelt thanks, and said she would do her utmost to make the Institute useful.

THE MACKENZIE MUDDDLE.

The National Zeitung says that Drs. Bergmann and Gerhardt have declined to adopt the suggestion to have the public prosecutor indict Dr. Mackenzie and the publisher of his book, for libel. They declare that Dr. Mackenzie's statements will recoil on himself, and are therefore anxious that his book be given the fullest publicity.

Professor Virchow, in an interview with a represeniative of the Vossiche Zeitung, protests against Dr. Mackenzie's attempt to throw the responsibility upon him. He said he had not been summoned to see Emperor Frederick. The autopsy, he added, showed that the disease was more deeply seated than the tumor from which Dr. Mackenzie removed the particles for examination.

The police of Berlin have seized all the English and French copies of Dr. Mackenzie's book.

Prof. Bergmann does not object to fighting a duel with Dr. Mackenzie. Dr. Mackenzie denies the statement that Empress Victoria read the proofs of his book before it was published.

AMERICAN LITIGANTS.

The Weizer Zeitung states that action which has been pending for some years, brought by a number of American ship owners against the City of Berlin, for the recovery of navigation dues alleged to have been illegally levied, has been concluded. The demands of the Americans have been rejected on the mutual suggestion of the American government and the Bremen council. The question was submitted for arbitration to Prince Bismarck, who suggests that the Leipsic court shall dectde.

The Kaiser's Meanderings.

NAPLES, October 18.—Emperor William launched the iron-clad Castaelamore yesterday in the presence of King Humbert and in view of the united fleets and thousands of spectators. After the launching the monarchs boarded the royal yacht Savoic and remained on the bridge three hours, evincing the keenest interest in the imposing display of the navy. Each vessel as it passed the Savoic saluted with manned yards.

Emperor William went to Pompeii this morning. He was intensely interested in seeing what was to be seen in Pompeii, especially in the excavation made in his presence, during the progress of which several valuable bronze objects were unearthed. These were presented to the Emperor as souvenirs of his visit. The Emperor and King Humbert returned to Naples at noon and immediately departed for Rome.

ROME, October 18.—Emperor William and King Humbert returned to this city to-day. They met with a similar reception to that given to Emperor William when he first arrived here. Enormous crowds lined the route taken by the royal party.

Foreign Briefs.

QUEBEC, October 18.—At Count Premeo Real's inquest to-day, the jury rendered a verdict of suicide during temporary insanity.

MADRID, October 18.—The Dia confirms the report that Emperor William intends to visit Madrid and Lisbon. The date of the visit has not yet been fixed.

ATHENS, October 18.—Railway traffic through the country is impeded by heavy floods. The Megarean plain has been converted into a lake and the railroads on both sides of Nogaria have been destroyed for a distance of twelve miles.

PARIS, October 18.—The circulation of the newspapers, Estafette, Pays, Intransiegant, Patria, Telegraphe and Voltaire, has been prohibited in Alsace-Lorraine, and the circulation of other French papers have been restricted.

ROME, October 18.—This evening the royal party, including the Queen, viewed the coliseum and forum, which were illuminated for the occasion. Afterward the party was serenaded. Emperor William was much pleased. The Emperor will start for Berlin at 3 P. M. to-morrow. He will go via Florence and Verona.

LONDON, October 18.—Dr. Mackenzie has issued a statement refuting the assertions of Prof. Verchow and Dr. Waldier. He says the abscess was a diffusion, and that as usual in such cases of dying persons the secretions of pus were arrested during the last few days. Dr. Howell corroborated the statements of Mackenzie.

OTTAWA, October 18.—J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State, was banqueted to-night by the Workingmen's Conservative Association. He ridiculed the idea of annexation, and said the true English and French Canadians would never permit it to take place. He denied trying to bully the Americans. He had opposed the Southern secession in Montreal and was nearly mobbed for his pains. Sir John McDonald said there is no danger of war between Canada and the United States. He felt hopeful of a satisfactory settlement of the fishery question. Canada is in a critical period and must be cool.

The name of the Sumner depot on the Southern Pacific is to be changed to Bakersfield, as travelers to that town, which is three miles from the track, are often puzzled to know how to reach it.

CAMPAIGN CHOW CHOW.

The Bandana Banner in Indiana.

THE OLD ROMAN'S GRAND WORK.

The Tippecanoe Meeting a Dull, Dismal Failure—Levi's Little Speech.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

PERU, Ind., October 18.—Judge Thurman and party arrived this afternoon to attend the big barbecue. Crowds have been coming into the city since early this morning. Rain, however, interfered with the demonstration. Judge Thurman was taken at once to the Opera House, which was packed with an enthusiastic audience, which greeted him with prolonged applause.

The little opera house in which Judge Thurman spoke has seats for 600 or 700, and double that number crowded into it, until the balcony became dangerously overcrowded. On the streets an immense throng watched the brief "float" procession that carried party mottoes to the delight of the spectators. It is estimated that fully 15,000 people were in town during the day.

Judge Thurman began his speech by complimenting the crowd on its size and said that it was a healthy indication of how Indiana would go in November. If the Indiana Democrats did their duty, Grover Cleveland would be the next President. He then proceeded to discuss the tariff and the question of the surplus, following the line of argument pursued last night at Fort Wayne. His audience gave the closest attention, frequently interrupting him with applause and showing interest and a keen appreciation of the points made throughout the speech. Continuing, he charged the Republican speakers with making bold and audacious attempts to deceive the people in their high protective tariff speeches.

He cited as one instance the claim made by them that this tariff tax is not paid by the American consumer, but by the foreign exporter; that he pays it for the privilege of bringing his goods here. He wanted to know, if this was the case, why all other taxes were not abolished; why not collect all taxes, State and county, and for government purposes from these foreigners? He asked: Why not say to the people of Europe, "You shall support our Government; you shall in the guise of a tariff furnish all the means that are necessary to support the American Government." How long would it be, he asked, before they would say: "Well, what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander?" They would say to our farmers, he went on to say, who send off their wheat to Europe, and their pork and beans and the like, "You send all these things to our country to be sold. You shall pay such a duty, such a tariff, as will support our Government, and then we will see who will come out best in the long run." How would you like that, asked the speaker. How would you like to support the immense standing armies of European countries? He predicted that the American farmers would not stand it one day.

Immediately at the conclusion of his speech, which lasted thirty-five minutes, Judge Thurman was driven to the depot and rested in his private car. A large crowd was on hand to see him, and he came out three times to chat with him. Judge Thurman and Governor Gray talked for some time with the crowd, the repartees being as fresh as the breezes and greatly delighting the people. The train pulled out at 2:30 o'clock for Indianapolis.

ARRIVED AT INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 18.—Judge Thurman and party arrived here a few minutes before 9 o'clock, the train being two hours and a half behind time. It was a heavily loaded train, the eight coaches being literally jammed with a mass of enthusiastic, cheering Democratic humanity, whose shouts gave response to the greetings of the people along the way. The Judge will remain here quietly at the Durand Hotel until Saturday morning, when he will go to Brazil to close his Indiana campaign. No speech will be made in this city, no hall of sufficient size being obtainable.

TIPPECANOE.

A Cold, Damp Day at the Battle Ground—The Speakers.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., October 18.—The second day of the Republican demonstration at the Tippecanoe battle ground can hardly be called a success. From early morning rain fell steadily and by 11:30 A. M., when the speaking at the tabernacle was to begin, the crowd had dwindled to less than three thousand. Ira G. Chase, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Indiana, Col. Law of Atlanta, Ga., and others entertained the crowd until Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, of Chicago, was was announced. Shortly after 1 o'clock Mr. Lincoln was introduced as the eldest son of our martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, and was received with generous applause. He spoke an hour, confining his remarks mainly to the discussion of the tariff. While he was speaking the firing of cannon announced the arrival of Governor Foraker, who took a seat on the platform until the conclusion of Mr. Lincoln's speech. Quite an ovation was tendered to Governor Foraker when he arose. He devoted himself almost entirely to an attack on Mr. Thurman's position on the tariff question. He was frequently applauded. At 3 o'clock the speaking and celebration ended together.

MY PARTNER LEVI.

Several Thousand Republicans Trample the Millionaire's Lawn.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., October 18.—There was an immense demonstration at Rhinecliffe to-night, the occasion being a visit of various Republican clubs to Mr. Levi P. Morton. Fully 5,009 were present. On arriving at Mr. Morton's residence the clubs were massed on the lawn on the north side of the house. George Esselstein, of Rhinebeck, as chairman, welcomed the clubs and presented them to Mr. Morton, who responded with a speech.

Mr. Morton's speech was in brief as follows:

MR. ESSELSTEIN, FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS—Illuminated demonstrations of this magnitude are of a rare occurrence in quiet country towns and the surprise of the people of Rhinebeck can, I think, only be compared to that of the red men of the forest when the Pilgrim Fathers landed on Plymouth rock, or when Hendrick Hudson's boat made its first trip up the Hudson river; however, I have great pleasure in greeting you with cordial welcome, and beg to assure you of my grateful appreciation of the honor conferred on me by your visit, this evening. Beyond welcoming you here in the best terms at my command, I do not see that there is much to be said. You are all Republicans, and no arguments, therefore, are needed, either to convert you to those principles or to strengthen your wavering faith in them, and it so happens that in the party there are no questions upon which Republicans differ. There is nothing in our platform that calls for guarded explanations or diplomatic excuses, and there are neither party cliques nor sections nor factions. Therefore we have no politics to talk about this evening. We can at least felicitate ourselves and others upon the harmony which pervades the Republican party and the element of strength which such a unity of sentiment and purpose so closely betokens. You probably know that the Republicans of every other county in this State are working in as complete harmony as this. With this harmony, this unanimity of sentiment and action, what is the result that we may reasonably expect to achieve at the polls? There are among you many who spent the flower of your youth in the battle for freedom, and you can practically estimate the value of close masses when entering a conflict. Your experience will teach you that organizations such as the large number present to-night, are effective and powerful agencies in a political campaign, but, my friends, industry and personal work is equally important. Only a few days remain for effective work before the verdict must be given, which will, in my judgment have far-reaching effect on the future prosperity of the country. The absorbing question at this time is whether that verdict will favor the advance of those principles of protection for which the Republicans have always contended and which have placed this country at the head of the industrial Nations. With such complete harmony in our ranks, such unison in sentiment, in action and in expectation, we may await the verdict with confident assurance.

Hewitt and Cleveland.

NEW YORK, October 18.—Mayor Hewitt, speaking about his feeling toward President Cleveland, said to-day: There is no coolness between President Cleveland and myself or Edward Cooper. I see no reason why I should not go to see Cleveland or why he should not call on me. He has repeatedly invited me to dine with him, but on every occasion I have been sick and could not accept.

Studying His Speech for Saturday.

CHICAGO, October 18.—Hon. James G. Blaine remained in his room at the Grand Pacific hotel to-day and received no callers. He will remain here till Saturday evening, when he will address a meeting at Battery D. Armory. The local Republicans are making preparations for a great demonstration on that occasion.

Large Meeting at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, October 18.—Speaker Carlisle and Congressmen McMillin, Wilson and Hooker addressed to-night the larges political meeting ever held in this city. Letters of regret from President Cleveland and Judge Thurman were read.

RAILROADS AND RAILROADERS.

Fatal Wreck in Illinois—Brotherhood Meetings, Etc.

FREEPORT, Ill., October 18.—A fatal accident occurred this morning on the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City Railway, near Yellow Creek Station. A freight train left here in two sections; the first section stopped near Yellow Creek, an extra darted around a curve and crushed into the rear of the other train, demolishing the caboose and instantly killing three of its six occupants. The names of the killed are: James K. Orr, John Brown and Edward Hickey. Others were badly shaken up.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—The Street-Car Association to-night elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Geo. D. Kerehr, of Cincinnati; First Vice-President, Jesse Metcalf, Providence; Second Vice-President, H. Hurt, Washington; Third Vice-President, W. H. Martin, San Francisco; Secretary, W. J. Richardson, Brooklyn. Minneapolis was selected as the next place of meeting. The Convention adjourned sine die.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 18.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew, J. D. Long, president of the Bee Line, C. H. Webb and others, comprising a railway inspection party, reached this city this evening from St. Louis. They made a brief informal call on General Harrison, and spent the remainder of the evening in listening to a performance at the Grand Opera House.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, October 16.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Brakemen had their first secret session yesterday and the time was principally taken up by routine business. Eugene Debs, Secretary and Treasurer of the Locomotive Firemen, delivered an address strongly favoring the plan of federation as proposed by the Brotherhood of Firemen at Atlanta.

RICHMOND, October 18.—The Convention of Locomotive Engineers convened in secret session this morning. The discussion of questions of National and general importance is not expected to take place for several days yet.

NEW YORK, October 18.—Senator Stanford returned from Europe to-day. He is in fine health.

A "Busted" Trust.

CHICAGO, October 18.—Nathan Corwith & Co., the great pig-lead firm and the promoters of the gigantic lead trust, or corner, have failed. The immediate cause of the collapse was the refusal of the Union National Bank of Chicago to extend time on overdrafts to the amount of $89,000. This sum represents a very small portion of the firm's indebtedness to the bank and is only the climax to a long series of overdrafts to pay margins which were to sustain the pig-lead trust. The liabilities run into millions and the assets cannot now be approximated.

Nat Goodwin's Bride.

CHICAGO, October 18.—It has just transpired that Nat Goodwin, the comedian, was privately married here a few days ago to Nellie Baker. It is said she is a prominent society woman from the East. Goodwin, while admitting the marriage, declines to say where his wife is from.

BUFFALO, October 18.—The lady reported to have been married to Nat Goodwin was formerly Mrs. M. C. Pease of this city. She was divorced some time ago.

SACRAMENTO, October 18.—Colonel C. F. Crocker, Vice-President of the Southern Pacific Railroad, D. O. Mills and Ogden Mills left this evening, via the Atlantic and Pacific road, in a special car for New York.

THE PACIFIC SLOPE.

Another "James Ralston" Apprehended.

A FORGER'S SCHEME FOILED.

Chinese Perjurers Checkmated. Big Fire at Woodland. Other Items.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SACRAMENTO, October 18.—This morning there was received at the bank of D. O. Mills & Co. a cipher dispatch from the Farmer's & Merchant's Bank of Los Angeles, asking that $100 be paid Wells, Fargo & Co. on account of O. H. Bliss. When the money was tendered the company's agent, Tracy refused it on account of not knowing Bliss, and there being nothing in the transaction for the company he represents. About noon a young man put in his appearance at the bank and introduced himself as O. H. Bliss, and stated that he desired the money authorized to be paid him. Cashier Miller said that identification would be necessary, and the stranger, after signing the receipt, took it with him with the avowed intention of securing a second name on it. He soon returned and exhibited the receipt, which now bore the name of C. F. Gardner as witness. Cashier Miller's suspicions being aroused, he detained the alleged Mr. Bliss on some pretext while the clerk was dispatched to the office of Gardner. The latter declared he had never known Bliss, and the latter was thereupon lodged in the city prison on the charge of forgery.

The forgery of Gardner's name is a clumsy attempt. A copy of the genuine signature was obtained by Bliss by writing from the Western Hotel where he was stopping to Mr. Gardner, that O. H. Bliss desired to see them. When Gardner called Mr. Bliss was not in and Mr. Gardner left a note with his name appended. At the station house the forger admitted his guilt. He is aged about 35, is dark, tall and good looking, and speaks with a decided German accent and is apparently a German.

FIRE AT WOODLAND.

Prior's Block Laid In Ashes. Loss Eighty Thousand Dollars.

WOODLAND, Cal., October 18.—Fire broke out this evening in the rear of Miller's grocery store in Prior's block. The flames soon communicated to the scenery in the West End Theater, causing a panic among those attending the Catholic Fair therein; fortunately no one was hurt. The flames spread rapidly and in less than an hour the entire block was in flames. Miller's grocery, King's feed store and Mrs. Wint's fancy bazar are a total loss. The Weekly Herald office was badly damaged. H. Ord's stock of buggies was removed, but damaged considerably. Prior's harness shop and Gibson & Co.'s stock of goods was removed, but damaged by water. The entire block is a total wreck. The loss as near as can be ascertained to-night will reach $80,000.

CHINESE FRAUDS.

Attempts of Coolies to Land by False Swearing.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—A partial investigation to-day in the case of twenty Chinese passengers of the steamer Parthia, who have obtained writs of habeas corpus on the ground of being merchants restrained of their liberty, contrary to the provisions of the Exclusion Act, showed that in a number of cases the applicants were laborers in the meaning of the Scott bill, and that their writs had been falsely sworn to by certain Chinese of this city. As no description had been taken of the latter it was impossible to identify and arrest them for perjury, but the holders of the writs falsely sworn to, will be examined before Judge Sawyer to-morrow.

The Rain Area.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—Indications for twenty-four hours: California—Fair weather, preceeded by local rains in southern portions; northerly part nearly stationary weather.

SAN BERNARDINO, October 18.—Light rain to-day and still falling.

SAN DIEGO, October 18.—The rain continued here to-day and it is raining steadily to-night, making twenty hundredths of an inch for the storm. If the rain continues it is feared the late grape crop will be injured.

Oregon Farmers Happy.

PORTLAND, Ore., October 18.—The wheat crop of the entire wheat belt of Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory turned out well this year, and there is a surplus of many thousand tons. Three-quarters of the yield has already been sold and the farmers are in high spirits and preparing to seed every available acre in wheat for next year. The wheat produced this year was plump and of a heavy weight. A notable feature was an almost total absence of smut.

Sharp Decline in Pine Lumber.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—There was a sharp decline in pine lumber to-day, the break being from $20 to $14 per thousand feet. Retail dealers claim it is the result of an effort of the lumber trust to destroy the retailers' business by underbidding them until such time as the small dealers are all driven out of the market.

Fire on the Beach.

SAN DIEGO, October 18.—Last night two dwellings, owned by E. Lamb and W. Peterson, on Coronado Beach, were destroyed by fire, which started in Lamb's house from a defective flue. Lamb's loss was about $2,000; not insured. Peterson's loss was about $3,000; insured for $1,500.

Suicide or Murder.

HOLBROOK, Arizona, October 18.—The body of L. Murphy, a railroad employee, was found in a coal house this morning with his throat cut from ear to ear. A small pocket knife was found near the body. It is not known whether it is a case of suicide or murder.

Testing It at Tacoma.

PORT TOWNSEND, October 18.—The thirty Chinese brought down from Juneau, Alaska, and refused landing here will be taken to Tacoma to-night, where writs of habeas corpus will be sued out and the legality of the Exclusion Act tested.

A Strike That Paid.

MARYSVILLE, October 18.—The Southern Pacific Railroad employees building sidetracks here struck this morning for an advance of 25 cents on daily wages, owing to their expenses. The company allowed their demand without disputing.

FACTS ABOUT THE SURPLUS.

Two Additions to the American Colony in Canada—Cable Flashes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD]

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., October 18.—A fatal wreck occured on the Cumberland Valley Railroad, near Shippensburg, this morning. Trains No. 14 and No. 9 collided at a sharp curve in the road, telescoping the cars and demolishing the engines. The officials of the road here are very reticent in the matter and refuse to state anything of the causes. From the trainmen the following particulars are learned: Both trains were late and the conductor of No. 9, received orders at Newville to run to Shippensburg and pass No. 14. The conductor of No. 14 says he received orders at Shippensburg to run to the thirty-eight mile siding between Shtppensburg and Newville, and there meet and pass No. 9. Acting on these orders, he left Shippensburg and within three miles met the on-coming train. The engineer of No. 14 saw the smoke of the other train around the curve and shut off steam and applied the air-brakes, but before he could stop the two trains came together with a crash. The engines interlocked, the boiler of one being driven over five feet into that of the other. The express cars on both trains were driven back and completely telescoped the baggage cars. Baggagemaster Charles Bitner, of Harrisburg, was caught between the cars and so horribly mangled that he died in a short time after being cut out of the wreck. Conductors Linn and Bowman are both seriously injured, and many of the passengers received injuries, though not serious. The mail cars caught fire and considerable mail was destroyed.

THE SURPLUS.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Gives the Figures.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—Acting Secretary Thompson of the Treasury, in speaking in regard to the probable condition of the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year, said: The appropriation bills having all been passed by the present Congress, some estimate can now be made of the probable surplus of revenue for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1889, over the expenditures for the same year. Estimating the several minor items, the amount of expenditures approximates $306,000,000; the estimated expenditures from the permanent annual appropriations are $115,640,798, making a total of $421,640,798. The total estimated revenues are $440,500,000, making an excess of revenue over the total appropriations of about $19,000,000; but this by no means represents the actual surplus of revenue for the current fiscal year. A careful estimate shows that of these appropriations, which are specific and continuing appropriations, there will be at least $37,000,000 which will not and cannot be properly expended during this fiscal year, which makes an actual surplus of $56,000,000, which is substantially the same amount estimated by the Secretary in his annual report. But even this does not fairly represent the surplus revenues for the fiscal year 1889, for in the appropriations above stated there is included the sum of about $18,000,000 for deficiencies in the appropriations for 1888, and prior years, which should have been appriated at a prior session of Congress and paid out of the surplus revenue of former years. This added to the above sum of $56,000,000 increases the surplus revenues of 1869 to $74,000,000. This does not include the balance which will be turned into the Treasury on the 30th of June, 1889, of the unexpended appropriations of 1887 and prior years, which, according to careful estimates, will not be less than $6,000,000. In the expenditures there is included nearly $48,000,000 for the sinking fund which is really part of the surplus revenues, and added, will make the total of $122,000,000 of revenues in excess of the actual and necessary expenditures of the government for the fiscal year 1889, which would make an actual increase of the surplus at the end of this year of $104,000,000. The estimate of the unexpended balance at the close of this fiscal year, given above, is extremely low compared with the actual balances which have remained unexpended in prior years. For instance, June 30, 1888, the unexpected balance of appropriations for that year was $75,514,000, on the 30th of June 1887, $84,371,895; for the fiscal year which ended on that day for each of the years 1886 and 1885 it was over $53,000,000. The above statement has reference to the excess of revenues for the present fiscal year over the expenditures for the same, and it is entirely independent of the surplus now in the Treasury, amounting to $97,934,305, including $24,347,548 of fractional coin. Any portion of the present surplus not expended within this fiscal year for the purchase of bonds, may be added to $104,000,000, to arrive as the actual surplus which will remain in the Treasury on the 30th of June next. With respect to the probable revenues for the fiscal year 1889, the books of the Treasury show that during the present fiscal year, up to and including October 15th, the daily receipts have aggregated $113,986,566, as against $115,868,473 for the same period last year. The falling off is only $1,881,907, which may be more than made up by increased receipts during the remainder of the year, which decrease is not more than is usual during the few months immediately preceding the Presidential election. There is, therefore, no reason to believe that the actual receipts for the fiscal year 1889 will fall below the estimated receipts. In view of the increased activity in all branches of business, it is believed that they will fully equal, if not exceed, the estimate.

YANKEE SUPERIORITY.

American Talent and Ingenuity Recognized Abroad.

NEW YORK, October 18.—An extract from a note received from one of the jurors of the Brussels Exposition, shows that though the number of American exhibitors was not as large as it should have been, the reputation of American artisans' ingenuity and talent was fully sustained by those who represented them at the Exposition. The writer, under date of the 5th of October, says: I have just finished the duties of juror at the exposition and must let you hear of the returns. In agricultural machines, on which division I was put, we got for the United States three diplomas of honors, the highest award and one gold medal; in other words, a diploma of honor for each exhibitor, but one, and he really only deserved a gold medal. The other exhibitors fared equally well, for out of seventy-three exponents, fifty-four got distinction of greater or less degree. I think we have reason to congratulate ourselves.

VICTORIA.

A Libel Suit on Account of the Absconding Treasurer.

VICTORIA, B. C., October 17.—Mayor Grant has instituted criminal proceedings against the proprietors of the Colonist, Messrs. W. H. Ellis and A. G. Sargison, for publishing a letter which asked some rather pointed questions regarding the defalcations of the absconded City Treasurer. It is understood the City Auditors discovered that the absconding treasurer abstracted over two thousand dollars this year from the city funds. He took this amount since the audit was instituted.

Fire in the Southfield mine, at Nanacimo, is not quite extinguished, owing principally to a cave in, under which the fire is burning. No danger is now anticipated.

Gone to Canada.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., October 18.—Attachments for large sums have been placed on the property of the Atlantic Cigar Company of Westfield, and on the property of William A. Abbott, its President, who has disappeared. It is thought he is in Canada. The company is one of the largest cigar houses in this State.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., October 18.—The business community was astounded this morning by the report that H. H. Briggs, the safe manufacturer, had left the city, and that he was charged with forgery, and that the Sheriff had levied on his property. The extent of the forgeries is unknown, but will amount to at least $15,000. Briggs is related to several of the most prominent people in the city.

Legions of Voters.

NEW YORK, October 17.—The second day's registration in this city was also exceptionally large, 90,979 names being registered, as against 77,566 for 1884.

CHICAGO, October 17.—Incomplete returns from the inspectors of registration, which was completed in this city yesterday, indicate a total of about 160,000. The vote at the last Presidential election was 110,000, and it is estimated that 160,000 votes will be cast at the forthcoming election, or an increase of more than 50 per cent. in four years.

Barry Expelled.

PHILADELPHIA, October 17.—The most important action by the present General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor, was taken to-day, when Thomas B. Barry, a former member of the Board, was formally expelled from the body. Barry was accused of a series of abuses, and was suspended from duty last August. A month afterward he forwarded his resignation; this was not acted upon until to-day, when the Board refused to accept it and expelled him.

A New Commandery.

PHILADELPHIA, October 17.—The Commander-in-Chief of the Loyal Legion of the United States held its fourth annual meeting in this city to-day. The following are the officers for the ensuing year: Commander-in-Chief, Rutherford B. Hayes, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of General Sheridan; Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief, Senator Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut; Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief, Judge Walter Q. Gresham, of Indiana.

PERFECT FOOD.

Perfect food is that which, while prepared in the most appetizing form, is also the most wholesome and nutritious. It should never be necessary to sacrifice the wholesomeness of an article in order to make it more palatable, nor, as is too often the case, should we be compelled to take our bread or cake bereft of its most appetizing qualities in order to avoid injury to our digestive organs.

The Royal Baking Powder possesses a peculiar quality, not possessed by any other leavening agent, that applies directly to this subject. It provides bread, biscuit, cake, muffins, or rolls, which may be eaten when hot without inconvenience by persons of the most delicate digestive organs. With most persons it is necessary that bread raised with yeast should lose its freshness or become stale before it can be eaten with safety. Distressing results likewise follow from eating biscuit, cake, pastry, etc., raised by the cheap, inferior baking powders that contain lime, alum, phosphates, or other adulterants. The hot roll and muffin and the delicious hot griddle cakes raised by the Royal Baking Powder are as wholesome and digestible as warm soup, meat, or any other food.

A qualification which makes the Royal Baking Powder inestimable as a leavening agent.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most approved medical inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc. We are also now using the Compound Oxygen treatment which has such a world-wide reputation in lung and nervous affections. Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of catarrh, throat diseases, bronchitis, asthma and consumption.

CATARRH.

The term catarrh is applied to a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic features is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward, his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucous into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrifies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering, and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fullness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and, occasionally, pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted and at times assumes an exceedingly fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasionly violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat, and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "hem" more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others, again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that a breath of wind upon the linings of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat larynx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surfaces in the larynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance of business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. The inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucous and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at my office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions Address

About Hotels and Hotels.

EDITORS HERALD—I notice that you are trying very hard to enlist the business men of the city in the Tenth-street hotel enterprise, and seem to think it strange that the great enterprise is allowed to stop for want of money to carry it forward to completion. Have you ever asked yourself who is responsible for the present state of affairs? Do you remember the circumstances under which that enterprise was started? Do remember that a real-estate speculator, whose name it is not necessary to mention, had a project on hand to build an immense tourists' hotels on one of the hills in the west part of the city? Do you remember that after a public meeting was held, and a majority of those present decided that it would be better to build a great hotel in the city proper, the speculator abandoned his project at a loss of several thousand dollars rather than lessen the chances of getting one by attempting to get two? Do you remember that after one hundred thousand dollars had been subscrbed, the subscribers met and selected the St. Vincent Block as the proper site for the great hotel? Do you remember that the owners of the Tenth street property refused to acquiesce in the decision of the majority and declared their ability to go on independently with their project? Do you remember that by their bluster they drew away support from the St. Vincent enterprise to such an extent that it had to be abandoned? Do you think, in view of all these circumstances, it is strange that the people do not rush with enthusiasm to the support of those who have undertaken to build on a site the least desirable of any that was proposed, and against the wishes of a majority of those who took an interest in the matter, simply to enhance the value of their property? I think every citizen of Los Angeles would be glad to see the Tenth-street Hotel carried on to completion; but those who so boldly undertook the enterprise should not expect assistance from those whose wishes they thwarted in the matter of location. The Carson and Colorado Railway to be Extended.

The San Francisco Examiner of Wednesday says: "D. O. Mills is at the Palace Hotel. He has taken this Western trip to look after his railroad properties. He is interessed with H. M. Yerrington and others in the Virginia and Truckee and Carson and Colorado Railroads. Both Mr. Mills and Mr. Yerrington, who is also here, are very reticent as to the purpose of their present visit to this city. Enough is known, however, to make it a certainty that they are here to inspect some surveys for an extension of the Carson and Colorado road from Keeler, Cal., its present terminus, to Mojave, the junction point of the Atlantic and Pacific and the Southern Pacific roads. For some years past Mills and Yerrington have controlled a very good railroad system, covering points in Southern Nevada and in Eastern California. It comprises 344 miles of track. Fifty-one miles of it is broad guage, which is called the Virginia and Truckee road. It runs from Virginia City via Mound House and Carson City to Shaffers, Cal. The remaining 293 miles is embraced in the Carson and Colorado road, which is narrow gauge, and which runs from Mound House to Candelaria and Bassalt, Nev. It then runs via Bishop, Tibbetts and Independence, Cal, to Keeler, passing through Mono and Inyo counties. Eight months ago the interested parties ordered a survey made from Keeler to Mojave. A surveying force of some twelve persons have been engaged in the work, and on November 1st next they will submit their preliminary surveys and estimates of cost to Mills and Yerrington in this city. Mr. Mills regards the Mojave extension as a paying project, and it is also said that he favors an extension of the Virginia and Truckee road from Shaffers up through Northern California. He thinks the latter scheme a good thing in view of the near approach of the Chicago and Northwestern road to Boise City, Idaho, and its probable extension into Northern California in a southwestern direction across Southern Oregon. Such an extension would naturally strike any new road that he might build north from Shaffers."

Oranges and Limes.

The Senate Tariff bill attacks the orange and lemon interests of California. In spite of the strong protest that has been made from this State, not a Republican Senator has had a word to say in explanation of the fruit schedule of the Senate bill. It follows, therefore, that the attack upon the citrus fruit industry of this Coast was deliberate. Republican Congresses placed olives, peaches, apricots, pears, apples, nectarines and cherries and most other California fruits on the free list, and now the Republican Senate seeks to lower the duty on oranges, lemons and nuts. At the same time it gives no compensation in the way of cheaper boxes or other necessaries.

The Mills bill gives a general reduction of taxation, while treating genuine infant industries as tenderly as possible. The Republican leaders simply aim at protecting capital and depressing unorganized industries. This feature runs all through the Senate Tariff bill, but nowhere does it show more conspicuously than in the fruit schedule. The Republican tariff reduces the duties on oranges five cents per box, or ten cents per thousand, and ten cents per box, or fifty cents per thousand, on lemons and limes. Walnuts are reduced one cent per pound by the Senate bill. These are points which should not be lost sight of in Southern California.[—S. F. Examiner.

Mr. Fillmore's Visit.

General Superintendent Fillmore, of the Southern Pacific, inspected the branch lines yesterday, and expressed his satisfaction at the way everthing was running. Workmen are to be put to work at once on the newly obtained right-of-way to the Wolfskill depot. Mr. T. J. Urquhart, superintendent of the Mohave division, came to the city yesterday to escort Mr. Fillmore northward and in his trip over the Santa Barbara branch. Mr. Fillmore left the city last night.

SANTA ABIE soothes and heals the membranes of the throat and lungs, when poisoned and inflamed by disease. It prevents night sweats and tightness across the chest, cures coughs, croup, asthma, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia, whooping-cough and all other throat and lung troubles. No other medicine is so successful in curing nasal catarrh as CALIFORNIA CAT-R-CURE. The enormous and increasing demand for these standard California remedies confirm their merits. EXCHANGE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The stock market was somewhat more active to-day, though an unusually large business was done in Union Pacific, the amounts for the entire increase in the stock mentioned furnishing nearly two-fifths of the entire business done. The speculations outside of a few specialties, however, presents no features of interest, the list being dull and the trading done within very narrow limits, and is almost of a purely professional character. Almost everything is higher this evening, and Union Pacific rose 2¼, Norfolk and Western preferred 1⅝, and Northern Pacific preferred 1¼ per cent.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened weak at 92¼c., one-half cent below last night's close, but after the first sales the market became strong and advanced to 93⅛c. Reports of new wells then caused a slight reaction and the market closed steady at 92⅝c.

MONEY QUOTATIONS.

Prime mercantile paper 4¾@6½.

Sterling exchange quiet and steady at $4.83¾ for sixty day bills; $4.87¾ for demand.

Bar silver 93¾c.

A TOKEN OF ESTEEM.

The Railroad Men Send a Present to Mr. and Miss Springer.

The fact that the wife of Mr. W. H. Springer, of the Southern Pacific ticket office, presented him with twins a couple of weeks ago will be remembered by readers of the HERALD. As Mr. Springer is a general favorite in railroad circles, the passenger agents and other officials in this city took advantage of the occasion to make a substantial token of their joy at the event. They accordingly had constructed at the works of the Los Angeles Furniture Company, a handsome double baby carriage, with canopies and linings of crimson satin, and this will be sent to Mr. Springer's residence this morning, accompanied by the following document:

"To Mr. and Miss Springer:

"Desiring to express our pleasure at your safe arrival in this vale of tears, please accept this small token of our esteem, as well as our sincere wishes that your trip through life may be first-class and unlimited.

Huggins, H. A. Smith, Robert Green, W. G. Cumming, R. O. Williamson, Charles T. Parsons, J. B. Quigley, F. W. Smith, D. M. True, W. B. Scott, C. R. Alberger, A. J. Hechtman, O. H. Burke, R. J. Pryke, Frank Hanon, Jesse Prescott, Jack Reeves, J. A. Muir, O. K. Cushing, J. A. Lockwood, W. S. Pollock, Charles Hornbeck, Barney Levy, M. Welch, Jr."

HELD BY WASHOUTS.

Railway Travel Impeded in Arizona.

The west bound overland train, due in this city at 10:30 o'clock last night, will not arrive until about 6:30 this morning. This is due to the fact that the train is stalled in Arizona by big washouts between Gila Bend and Texas Hill. A cloud burst of extraordinary violence is reported in that district, and the torrent of water is said to have carried everything before it, including several feet of the S. P.'s track. It is impossible to contend with these outbreaks of nature as, even if the roadbed were constructed of rock, it could not withstand the onslaught.

Owing to the fact that there was a considerable demand for northern travel from this city, last night a special train was made up, and left on No. 20's time [illegible] 30.

The [illegible]dicine Man's Death.

Testimony [illegible]s taken on the two points in the Indian mur[illegible]r case mentioned in yesterday morning's HERALD. Ex-Indian Agent C, G. Belknap testified that an Inspector had informed the Indians at the Tulare Reservation of the passage of the Act of Congress, and on the other hand two white men testified that the Indians had not been informed. If Judge Ross decides that [illegible] necessary formed of the law on the matter, this testimony is of no materiality. Evidence as to the proceedings of the Indian Council in which it was decreed that the medicine man was to die was also taken, and the points of law which the attorneys are to present will be submitted in briefs.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

DEAR SIR: I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler,
327 Ellis street.
